Did you ever wonder how the Monks came to have their code of rules?

A young monk arrives at the monastery. He is assigned to helping the other monks in copying the old canons and laws of the church by hand.

He notices, however, that all of the monks are copying from copies, not from the original manuscript.

So, the new monk goes to the head abbot to question this, pointing out that if someone made even a small error in the first copy, it would never be picked up! In fact, that error would be continued in all of the subsequent copies.

The head monk, says, "We have been copying from the copies for centuries, but you make a good point, my son."

He goes down into the dark caves underneath the monastery where the original manuscripts are held as archives in a locked vault that hasn't been opened for hundreds of years...Hours go by and nobody sees the old abbot.

So, the young monk gets worried and goes down to look for him. He sees him banging his head against the wall and wailing, "We missed the R! We missed the R! We missed the R!"

His forehead is all bloody and bruised and he is crying uncontrollably.

The young monk asks the old abbot, "What's wrong, Father?"

With a choking voice, the old abbot replies, "The word was... CELEBRATE!!!"

A father was trying to teach his son the evils of alcohol.

He put one worm in a glass of water and another worm in a glass of whiskey. The worm in the water lived, while the one in the whiskey curled up and died.

"All right, son," asked the father, "What does that show you?"

"Well Dad, it shows that if you drink alcohol, you won't get worms."

Two friends were standing in line at a fast-food restaurant, waiting to place their order. There was a big sign posted, "No bills larger than $20 will be accepted."

The woman in front of them, pointing to the sign, remarked, "Believe Me, if I HAD a bill larger than $20, I wouldn't be eating here."

A Sunday school teacher asked her class, "What was Jesus' mother's name?"

One child answered, "Mary."

The teacher then asked, "Who knows what Jesus' father's name was?"

A little kid said, "Verge." Confused, the teacher asked, "Where did you get that?"

The kid said, "Well, you know, they are always talking about Verge n' Mary."

70-year-old George went for his annual physical. All of his tests came back with normal results.

Dr. Smith said, "George, everything looks great physically. How are you doing mentally and emotionally? Are you at peace with yourself, and do you have a good relationship with your God?"

George replied, "God and me are very close. He knows I have poor eyesight, so he's fixed it so that when I get up in the middle of the night to go to the bathroom (poof!)

the light goes on when I pee, and then (poof!) the light goes off when I'm done."

"Wow," commented Dr. Smith, "that's incredible!"

A little later in the day Dr.

Smith called George's wife. "Thelma," he said, "George is just fine. Physically he's great, but I had to call because I am in awe of his relationship with God. Is it true that he gets up during the night and (poof!) the light goes on in the bathroom, and then (poof!) the light goes off?"

Thelma exclaimed, "That old fool! He's peeing in the refrigerator again!"

They really have a good relationship!

Tom is applying for a job as a signalman for the local railroad and is told to meet the inspector of the signal tower. The inspector decides to give Tom a pop quiz asking, "what would you do if you realized that two trains were heading towards each other on the same track?"

Tom says, "I would switch one train to another track."

"What if the lever broke?" asks the inspector.

"Then I'd run down to the tracks and use the manual lever down there," answers Tom. "What if that had been struck by lightning?" challenges the inspector?

"Then," Tom continued, "I'd run back up here and use the phone to call the next signal box."

"What if the phone was busy?" the inspector questioned.

"In that case," Tom argued, "I'd run to the street level and use the public phone near the station."

"What if that had been vandalized?"

"Oh well," said Tom, "in that case I would run into town and get my Uncle Leo."

This puzzled the inspector, so he asked, "Why would you do that?"

"Because he's never seen a train crash."

The instructor at a birthing class was trying to get everyone's attention. She said, "We are going to do an exercise now, that's purpose is to help the men sympathize with their partners."

"We have here what's called a pregnancy suit," said the woman instructor, holding up an artificial stomach with a strap. "This imitates the feeling of being pregnant. Which Husband volunteers to be the first one to try it on?"

"I will" said one man, taking the suit and trying it on. "This isn't too bad said the man walking around. I think I could get used to this." "Ok", said the instructor smiling, "now I would like you to bend down and pick up my pen from the floor."

"You want me to pick it up?" he said hesitantly, "just as I would if I was pregnant?" "Yes!" said the instructor.

"Honey," said the man turning to his spouse "do you mind picking up that pen for me?"

In honor of World Health Day, here are some healthy facts to enjoy

When you are looking at someone you love, your pupils dilate, and they do the same when you are looking at someone you hate.

The human head is one-quarter of our total length at birth but only one-eighth of our total length by the time we reach adulthood.

Your body gives off enough heat in 30 minutes to bring half a gallon of water to a boil.

In a lifetime, the average person produces about 25,000 quarts of saliva, enough to fill two swimming pools.

There are about 60,000 miles of blood vessels in the human body.

Heart pumps about 2,000 gallons of blood through those vessels every day.

Men without hair on their chests are more likely to get cirrhosis of the liver than men with hair.

One can of soda contains 10 teaspoons of sugar and the average American adult drinks 500 cans of soda every year, estimating about 52 pounds of sugar consumed in soft drinks alone.

Sleeping the right amount can prevent sickness, obesity, high blood pressure, and injury.

The more fresh foods you consume, the healthier you will be. Foods that do not expire contain unnatural preservatives, additives, and chemicals that deteriorate your body.

Every Saturday, this man goes into his barber shop. So this one Saturday, he told his barber that he was going to Rome.

The barber asked what flight he was going to take. The man responded, "A-1."

The barber yelled, "A-1? Are you crazy? That plane's food is horrible! And, you'll never get a wink of sleep 'cause the engines are so noisy!"

After a moment of silence, the barber politely asked, "What hotel are you staying at?"

The man replied, "The Grand Hotel".

The barber again yelled, "Why are you going there? That place is infested with roaches and the mattresses are as hard as rock!"

Then after a moment of silence, the man said, "Oh, and guess what I'm going to do?"

"What?" asked the barber.

"I'm going to see the Pope!"

The barber literally screamed, "You'll never get to see the Pope. No one ever gets to see the Pope up close!"

Two weeks later the man came back and said the plane and hotel were great. The barber was astonished.

The barber asked if he got to see the Pope up close.

The man stretched his arms about 2 feet apart and said, "I got to see the Pope and I was this far away and he talked to me personally."

"No way," said the barber, "what'd he say to you?"

"Where'd you get the dumb haircut?" the man replied.

A juggler, driving to his next performance, is stopped by a police.

"What are these matches and lighter fluid doing in your car?" asks the cop.

"I'm a juggler and I juggle flaming torches in my act."

"Oh yeah?" says the doubtful cop. "Let's see you do it." The juggler gets out and starts juggling the blazing torches masterfully.

A couple driving by slows down to watch. "Wow," says the driver to his wife, "I'm glad I quit drinking! Look at the test they are giving now."
