On a bitterly cold October morning a husband and wife were listening to the radio during breakfast. They heard the announcer say, "We are going to have 8 to 10 inches of snow today. You must park your car on the even-numbered side of the street, so the Snow plows can get through."

So the good wife went out and moved her car.

A week later while they are eating breakfast again, the radio announcer said, "We are expecting 10 to 12 inches of snow today. You must park your car on the odd-numbered side of the street, so the snow plows can get through."

The good wife went out and moved her car again.

The next week they are again having breakfast, when the radio announcer says, "We are expecting 12 to 14 inches of snow today. You must park...." Then the electric power went out.

The good wife was very upset, and with a worried look on her face she said, "I don't know what to do. Which side of the street do I need to park on so the snow plows can get through?"

Then with love and understanding in his voice that all men who are married exhibit, the husband replied, "Why don't you just leave the car in the garage this time."

A blonde was shopping at Target and came across a shiny silver thermos. She was quite fascinated by it, so she picked it up and took it to the clerk to ask what it was. The clerk said, "Why, that's a thermos, it keeps hot things hot, and cold things cold."

"Wow!" said the blonde, "that's amazing...I'm going to buy it!" So she bought the thermos and took it to work the next day. Her boss saw it on her desk.

"What's that?" he asked.

"Why, that's a thermos. It keeps hot things hot & cold things cold." she replied.

Her boss inquired, "What do you have in it?"

The blonde replied, "Two pop-sicles & some coffee."

A guy goes to the supermarket and notices a very attractive woman waving at him. She says, 'Hello. He's rather taken aback because he can't place where he knows her from. So he asks, 'Do you know me?'

To which she replies, "I think you're the father of one of my kids." Now his mind travels back to the only time he has ever been unfaithful to his wife.

So he asks, "Are you the girl from the bachelor party ten years ago?"

She looks into his eyes and says calmly, 'No, I'm your son's teacher.'

Check out these nutty facts!

It takes about 540 peanuts to make a 12-ounce jar of peanut butter.

There are enough peanuts in one acre to make 30,000 peanut butter sandwiches.

The world's largest peanut butter factory churns out 250,000 jars of the tasty treat every day.

Four of the top 10 candy bars manufactured in the USA contain peanuts or peanut butter.

Americans spend almost $800 million a year on peanut butter.

Peanuts are the #1 snack nut consumed in the U.S., accounting for two-thirds of the snack nut market.

The average American consumes more than six pounds of peanuts and peanut butter products each year.

Americans eat enough peanut butter in a year to make more than 10 billion peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

The amount of peanut butter eaten in a year could wrap the earth in a ribbon of 18-ounce peanut butter jars one and one-third times.

Peanut butter was the secret behind "Mr. Ed," TV's talking horse. Spreading peanut butter inside the horse's mouth created a natural talking movement every time the animal moved his sticky jaws.

Peanut butter is consumed in 90 percent of USA households.

Peanuts account for two-thirds of all snack nuts consumed in the USA.

A toothpaste factory had a problem. They sometimes shipped empty boxes without the tube inside. This challenged their perceived quality with the buyers and distributors. Understanding how important the relationship with them was, the CEO of the company assembled his top people. They decided to hire an external engineering company to solve their empty boxes problem.

The project followed the usual process: budget and project sponsor allocated, RFP, and third-parties selected. Six months (and $8 million) later they had a fantastic solution - on time, on budget, and high quality. Everyone in the project was pleased.

They solved the problem by using a high-tech precision scale that would sound a bell and flash lights whenever a toothpaste box weighed less than it should. The line would stop, someone would walk over, remove the defective box, and then press another button to re-start the line. As a result of the new package monitoring process, no empty boxes were being shipped out of the factory.

With no more customer complaints, the CEO felt the $8 million was well spent. He then reviewed the line statistics report and discovered the number of empty boxes picked up by the scale in the first week was consistent with projections, however, the next three weeks were zero!

The estimated rate should have been at least a dozen boxes a day. He had the engineers check the equipment, they verified the report as accurate.

Puzzled, the CEO traveled down to the factory, viewed the part of the line where the precision scale was installed, and observed just ahead of the new $8 million dollar solution sat a $20 desk fan blowing the empty boxes off the belt and into a bin.

He asked the line supervisor what that was about. "Oh, that," the supervisor replied, "Bert, the kid from maintenance, put it there because he was tired of walking over, removing the box and re-starting the line every time the bell rang."
