Like a Boss

- ◆ A boss called Simon into his office today. "We both know you're not the brightest spark here, Simon," he said, "but over the last 5 years you've never been sick or late and I think you deserve a reward. So, how does a brand new car sound?" "Vrooom! Vroooooom!" he replied.
- ◆ Bernice had been employed at the same office for over 50 years and was the boss's top secretary. Everyone was jealous of her. Every day when Bernice showed up for work she would open the drawer to her left, peek inside, and then lock it. When she finally died, her coworker Sandy, who was dying of curiosity, made it her mission to figure out what was in that drawer. After days of searching she finally found the key. Sweating with excitement she slowly opened up the drawer. Inside was a folded piece of paper. Slowly she reached inside and took it out, while cautiously looking over her shoulder. After a few seconds of trepidation she opened it up. It said the following "Put only one spoonful of sugar in the boss's coffee."
- ◆ Sam walks into his boss's office. "Sir, I'll be straight with you, I know the economy isn't great, but I have over three companies after me, and I would like to respectfully ask for a raise." After a few minutes of haggling the boss finally agrees to a 5% raise, and Sam happily gets up to leave. "By the way", asks the boss as Sam is getting up, "which three companies are after you?" "The electric company, water company, and phone company", Sam replied.
- ◆ Today's Parenting Tip: Treat a difficult child the way you would your boss at work. Praise his achievements, ignore his tantrums and resist the urge to sit him down and explain to him how his brain is not yet fully developed. ~Robert Brault

One dark, windy night, the town drunk was meandering his way home after the bar closed. Somehow he got turned around and ended up walking through the churchyard instead of taking the road home. The wind picked up and he thought he could hear a voice calling his name. Suddenly, the ground opened up in front of him, and he fell down, down into an open grave! He could hear the voice clearer now, calling to him. He knew it was the devil, coming for him just like the preacher said, on account of him being the town drunk.

The hole was very deep and inside it was pitch black. His eyes adjusted to the darkness after a few moments, and he made out a form sitting in the darkness with him. It called his name, and he scrambled away in fear, trying to climb out of that terrible grave. Then the figure spoke. "You can't get out," it said.

The drunk gave a shout of pure terror and leapt straight up more than six feet. He caught the edge of the hole in his hands, scrambled out, and ran for home as fast as he could go.

Inside the open grave, his neighbor Charlie sighed in resignation. He'd fallen into the hole a few minutes before his friend and had thought that together they might help each other climb out. Now he was going to have to wait until morning and get the mortician to bring him a ladder.

Thank You!

A man joins a big corporate empire as a trainee. On his very first day of work, he dials the cafeteria and shouts into the phone, "Get me a coffee, quickly!"

The voice from the other side responded, "You fool! You've dialed the wrong extension! Do you know who you're talking to, dumbo?"

"No," replied the trainee.

"It's the CEO of the company, you fool!"

The trainee shouts back, "And do YOU know who YOU are talking to, you fool?!"

"No." replied the CEO indignantly.

"Good!" replied the trainee, and puts down the phone.

Could You Do Us A Favor?

Our business was built on the kind words many of our clients say about us to their friends and family. And since we're looking to grow a little more, we could use your help right about now. If you know of someone who needs help with their vehicle—someone who's looking for a place they can trust—won't you please tell them about us? We know you really appreciate the way we look out for your family by all the thanks we get. And sharing us with your closest friends and family is the most sincere form of appreciation we know. So do both your friends and us a favor by giving them one of our referral cards. You will benefit as well by knowing your loved ones are in good hands—not to mention our gift to you for your kind actions.

Thank You!

Easy Avgolomeno (Greek Lemon, Chicken, & Rice Soup)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 10 c. canned chicken broth | 3 tsp. chopped fresh oregano (or 1 tsp. dried, but fresh is so much better) |
| ½ c. chopped celery (about 3 stalks) | ¼ tsp. black pepper |
| ½ c. chopped carrot (2-3 carrots) | 3 eggs (or ¾ c. egg beaters) |
| ½ c. chopped onion (1 med. yellow or white onion) | ½ c. fresh lemon juice (about 2 small lemons) |
| 1 c. long grain rice | |
| 2 – 12 oz. cans white meat chicken (or 2 c. cooked) | |

Bring broth, celery, carrots, and onion to a boil, then add the rice, and reduce heat to medium for 20 minutes or just until the rice is tender, but not falling apart.

While the rice cooks: 1.) Dump the chicken and broth from the cans into another bowl and break up the pieces with a masher or knife, and 2.) Whisk together the eggs & lemon juice in an at least 4 c. measuring cup or bowl.

Once the rice is ready, stir in the chicken, its broth, oregano, and pepper, then simmer for 2 minutes. Ladle out about 2 cups of hot soup and slowly pour into the egg/lemon mixture while whisking, then pour it all back into the pot while stirring. Simmer for about 2 minutes while continuing to stir. Do not let the soup boil again - it might cause the soup to become "grainy" or separate. Serve immediately.
